

Group management in Active Directory® just got easier.

Users change jobs, departments get reorganized, and new committees and groups are being formed every day. All of this means that you're busy keeping Active Directory updated so that people can perform their jobs better. ADtoolkit Element ADgroups gives administrators easy-to-use tools for managing groups and group membership in Active Directory. Tasks can be simulated in advance to discover errors, they can be executed immediately, or tasks can be scheduled to run later. Either way, ADgroups gives you the flexibility to manage over 140 group attributes via point and click.

ADgroups gives administrators easy point and click, bulk administration tools to add, modify, and delete group attributes and manage their members.

ADgroups can be used in conjunction with ADreporter and other ADtoolkit Elements. Reports created via ADreporter can be easily imported into ADgroups to modify only those groups found in the report.

ADtoolkit Elements are available starting at only £295 per administrator. Get yours today!
